1. check-in

What makes you unique?

2. learning

1. Look at the person next to you and think of one way in which you are the same or similar to them. Then, think of one way in which you're different to each other.
2. Think about people who live in another part of the world eg. where it might be night time now, or a different season. What do all people do each day that is the same wherever we are? What might be different?

3. check-out

Which of your 5 senses is the strongest or the one you use the most?
